

New Paths for Independent Journalism?

Vereinte Europäische Linke · Nordische Grüne Linke

FRAKTION IM EUROPÄISCHEN PARLAMENT

GUE/NGL

www.guengl.eu

Berlin, 8 December 2017

10 a.m to 3 p.m. Part 1: Keynotes and Expert Talks

„Europäisches Haus“, Unter den Linden 78, 10117 Berlin

Can Twitter and Facebook rescue independent journalism?

In Turkey we see some good examples.

Speakers: Engin Önder (Founder and director of „140journos“, Social-Media-Journalismplatform), Zeynep Erdim (correspondent for BBC-Türkey) & Prof. Mine Gencil Bek (Universität Siegen, earlier Department of Journalism, Faculty of Communication, Ankara University, Turkey)

Journalists between resistance and exile

Free reporting within and outside Turkey

Speakers: Ali Celikkan (taz gazete), Mustafa Kuleli (TGS Journos Union Turkey), Seda Serdar (Head of the Turkish Service, Deutsche Welle), Zübeyde Sari (Reporter Özgürüz in Turkey)

5 p.m. to 7 p.m Panel Discussion: 'Europäischer Salon 2'

Franz-Mehring-Platz 1, 10243 Berlin (Building of the Rosa-Luxemburg-Stiftung & nd)

Is media freedom in danger?

Journalism caught in between repression and insurrection

Speakers: Martina Michels (MEP/LINKE), Dr. Lutz Kinkel (managing director ECPMF), Hanna Ongjerth (journalist), Christoph Links (publisher)

Within the context of our event we will inaugurate the exhibition „Laughing to death“ by Stelios Kouloglou, MEP GUE/NGL Group, prior to the panel discussion.

7:30 p.m.

Get-together at ‚Café Sybille‘ (Karl-Marx-Allee 72) hosted by Martina Michels (MEP) . With musical numbers by ‚Der singende Tresen‘

For registration and information:

e-mail: martina.michels@ep.europa.eu - subject: Registration New Paths for Independent Journalism?

Detailed and updated information at: www.dielinke-europa.eu

With kind support of the EP information office in Berlin

